

OPERATORS AND
SENATORS CLASHFist Fight at Mine Strike Inquiry Narrowly Averted.

MARTINE GETS VERY ANGRY

At the Close of a Stormy Session at Charleston, W. Va., New Jersey
Senator Resents Invitation on Part of Coal Baron to Take a Drink and Only the Intervention of Friends
Prevents a Personal Combat.

Charleston, W. Va., June 18.—At a stormy session of the senate mine
strike committee at which a fist fight
between Senator Martine of New Jersey and Quinn Morton, manager of the Paint Creek Operators' association,
was narrowly averted, the coal
operators of Paint and Cabin Creek
presented their side of the controversy. Mr. Morton and others discussed at length the fight at the miners' camp and Holly Grove on the night of Feb. 7, when witnesses for
the miners testified a machine gun
raked the town from an armored train.

Mr. Morton flatly denied the statement of Lee Calvin, a former mine
guard, called by the miners, that he had urged that the train be backed
up and that the men on board "give them another round."

This statement and Calvin's declaration that Morton had remarked,
"Didn't we give them hell" after the train passed the town Mr. Morton vigorously denied.

Returns Just Before Recess.

After once questioning Mr. Morton
as to his participation in the shooting
up of Holly Grove, Senator Martine
left the hearing room and returned
just as the committee was prepared
to recess for luncheon.

He strode into the room and,
without taking his seat, resumed the questioning of Mr. Morton.

During the morning Mr. Morton had denounced the attitude of Senator Martine as "outrageous," and the trouble broke out again with the question the senator asked on his return.

He wanted to know whether Mr.
Morton had expressed satisfaction at
the effect of the firing on Holly Grove, but before he had developed
his line of questioning Senator Swanson, scenting trouble, adjourned the committee.

Mr. Morton leaned back in the witness seat as Senator Martine, his hand
and heavy walking stick in his hand,
stood behind the press table, still asking questions.

"Well," remarked Mr. Morton,
"we'll all go down and take a few
drinks and then we'll feel better."

Crowd Begins to Leave.

The auditors had already begun to
crowd toward the door of the room,
when they were arrested by a shout
of Senator Martine.

"What was that you said, sir?" he demanded, leaning toward Mr. Morton.

"I said we'll go down and have a few drinks and we'll feel better," repeated the mine operator.

Pushing his way through the little
throng about the stenographer's table
Senator Martine shouted:

"You are a background of the worst
character to address such a remark
to me."

Out of the confusion that followed
came the voice of Morton.

"Did you not take three drinks with me in thirty minutes?"

With a bound Senator Martine covered the short distance that separated
the two men.

"You have forfeited all respect to consideration as a decent white man,"
he shouted.

Lawyer Chides Senator.

"You are an excited old man," interposed Attorney Vinson as both men pressed toward each other. Vinson protested against his client being "insulted."

Senator Swanson hurried around the committee table and seized Senator Martine. Aided by Sergeant-at-Arms Williams he hurried him from the room, Mr. Morton and Mr. Vinson protesting in vigorous language
against the proceedings.

This closed the incident, but the
excited throng from the committee
room filed out to the hotel lobby and a general disturbance accompanied
the discussion of the affair.

The operators placed on the stand
K. S. Leitch, the engineer, and William Tardy, the fireman, who were in charge of the armored train the night
of the Holly Grove fight.

Both testified that they were certain that the first shots fired in the trouble were from the hills along the track at Holly Grove and that no
shooting was done from the train
until after it had been fired upon.

Manufacturers' Export association,
whose guest he was at luncheon.

CAMPAIGN TO EDUCATE PUBLICSenate Lobby Inquiry Secures
Number of Letters.

ONE COMES FROM MINNESOTA

Original Telegrams and Letters and Copies of Others Secured From Washington Offices of Beet Sugar
Interests Disclose Attempt to Create Public Sentiment Against Free
Sugar Through Papers and Press Associations.

Washington, June 18.—The trail of
the "lobby" the senate has been following more than two weeks led into
the private files of the men in charge
of the Washington offices of the United States beet sugar industry, the leading instrument of the campaign
against free sugar.

By originals of letters and telegrams and what purported to be
copies of others the inquiry developed testimony of what appeared to be an attempt at a far-reaching campaign to create public sentiment against free
sugar through the columns of individual newspapers and the facilities
of press associations.

The committee got possession of copies of letters and telegrams of Clarence C. Hamlin, a Colorado Springs newspaper owner and beet
sugar man, in charge of the Washington office of the American Beet Sugar
association, two years ago.

The papers included what purported to be carbon copies of letters, unsigned, but furnished as genuine by Harry A. Austin, a clerk in the office of Truman G. Palmer, representative of the United States beet sugar industry.

While the committee was after the private papers Palmer, after conference with Senator Clark of Wyoming, Hamlin's uncle, was wiring Hamlin
urging him to get a lawyer to represent his interests.

The committee had knowledge of
that and hurried the letters into the record without regard to sequence.

Minnesota Letter Read.

A letter to Hamlin from H. A.
Douglass of the Minnesota Sugar
company of Chaska, Minn., dated at Detroit, April 6, 1912, said:

"We think it would be the wise
plan to have C. T. Fenton, manager of the Minnesota Sugar company, who is now in Washington, meet the Iowa
senators and advise them of the possibility of the Minnesota Sugar company extending its interests in Northwestern Iowa in case of a satisfactory
sugar tariff settlement."

A copy of a letter purporting to have been written by Hamlin to J.
Ross Clark of Los Angeles and dated Washington, Jan. 18, 1912, said in part:

"Mr. Case had another conference with Senator Works yesterday and is satisfied that he will do all he can
for us."

One letter from the Hamlin file,
written from Washington on Dec.
2, 1911, to Charles B. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar company,
enumerated nearly a dozen large papers in the Middle West in which he said he had succeeded in getting
"our story" printed.

A letter to C. B. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar company, dated Feb. 1, 1912, and apparently from Hamlin, said:

"Mr. Pickett, from Iowa, classed as an insurgent, will make one of the principal speeches in opposition to any sugar measure that may be brought in. Mr. Palmer is now at work on the necessary data. Mr.
Mondell of Wyoming also wishes to enter into the fight on the floor and
to be equipped with the necessary information. It is for him that I want
Mr. Hathaway to prepare a brief."

PROBE OIL TRUST'S COURSE

Attorney General Investigating Obedience to Decree.

Washington, June 18.—Attorney General McReynolds is seeking further information before deciding whether the decree dissolving the Standard Oil trust has been violated and whether
in consequence the federal government should begin contempt of court
or grand jury proceedings against those responsible.

Under instructions of the attorney general, Charles B. Morrison, government's counsel in the case, is in Chicago attempting to develop more facts
and giving study to the questions of law involved. This may take several weeks.

Many Deaths From Cholera.

Saloniki, June 18.—A violent epidemic of cholera has broken out in the Bulgarian army camps in Macedonia and more than 100 cases a day
are being reported. Many deaths have resulted from the plague. The soldiers who went through the hard
winter campaign against the Turks
are in poor physical shape to withstand disease.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK.
Proposes Graduated System
for Taxing Big Corporations.

INCOME TAX FOR TRUSTS

Senator Hitchcock Proposes Graduated System.

Washington, June 18.—A graduated
income tax upon corporations having
a capital stock of more than $100,- 000,000 and controlling more than one-
fourth of the production of their respective lines was proposed to the finance committee by Senator Hitchcock from the floor of the senate.

"I propose to take these amendments to the Democratic caucus if
the finance committee rejects them
and carry them to the floor of the senate itself if necessary," declared the Nebraska senator as he faced Chairman Simmons of the finance committee.

Senator Hitchcock explained that
his new proposal to tax the "trusts"
provided that on corporations controlling one-third of the production the tax would be 15 per cent of their annual net profits and on those controlling 50 per cent a tax of 25 per cent.

MEATS COME UNDER
PURE FOOD LAWSWill Be Seized if Misbranded
or Adulterated.

Washington, June 18.—Probably the most radical and far-reaching extension of the food and drugs act since its enactment was made when Secretaries Houston, McAdoo and Red-
field, charged with enforcing this statute, ruled that meat and meat products in interstate or foreign commerce, which hitherto have been exempted from the provisions of the pure food law, may be seized if mis-
branded or adulterated.

Beginning at once manufacturers of meat foods will be required to comply strictly with the food and drugs
act as well as with the meat inspection law.

The action was taken on the strength of an opinion by Attorney General McReynolds. The three secretaries revoked a regulation adopted in October, 1906, only four months
after the passage of the pure food
law which had prevented the department of agriculture according to a statement by Secretary Houston.

"From prosecuting manufacturers of meat foods under the pure food law,
or ordering seizures or prosecution
for misbranding or adulteration of domestic meats."

Secretary Houston said he could
not understand why meat and meat
products were not food in the sense of the food and drugs act, or why his department could not seize bad, adulterated or misbranded meat, once it
had entered interstate commerce.

Under the new decision the government can control meat foods from the hoof to the retailer, subject only to the limitations of the power of the federal government in interstate commerce.

MOVED TO ST. PAUL IN 1849

Mrs. Anna Acker Rice Dies at an Advanced Age.

St. Paul, June 18.—Mrs. Anna Acker
Rice, widow of Hon. Edmund Rice,
at one time mayor of St. Paul and congressman from Minnesota, who has been seriously ill at her home for two weeks, is dead. Her decline was due to age and, while her condition
had been serious only for two weeks,
her health had gradually failed for
two years.

Mrs. Rice was eighty-four years old and had been a resident of St. Paul since 1849, when she came to this state with her father, the late William Acker, and her husband, who had just made her his bride.

MONEY PROBLEM
BEATS THE TARIFFNo Currency Panic Coming If Wilson Can Prevent It.

PRESIDENT WANTS ACTION.

Secretary Bryan Steals March on Garrison and Gets Good Place For His Co-editor, Metcalfe; Also Corralles Several Other Snug Berths For Faithful Friends.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 18.—[Special.]— Currency legislation presents more difficulties than the tariff. As to the tariff the Democrats came together
upon a general scheme of downward
revision. It is true that the revision went much further than many Democrats anticipated, but they were all agreed upon the general plan.

As to the currency situation is different. In the first place, mighty few members of the party know anything about the currency question.
That also applies to the Republican and Progressive parties. There are many who understand, or think they understand all about the currency, but who differ radically as to what should be done. And there they are, all in a snarl.

Wilson in Command.

About the only thing that seems definitely settled is that President Wilson
is in command and has given orders
for "full steam ahead." But the captains of the several ships do not seem to have an adequate degree of knowledge as to which point of the money
compass is ahead. The president intends to have currency legislation to meet conditions which may arise on account of the passage of the tariff bill.

He does not want any situation to arise which will make a money stringency possible on top of what may be a disarrangement of business by reason of tariff changes. The last tariff bill passed by the Democrats had the misfortune to be mixed up with a currency panic of great dimensions. The president is determined to make any such thing impossible in the future.

Takes Care of His Friends.

Secretary Bryan takes care of his friends. He goes into other departments and gets good places for them.
Secretary Garrison was away one day,
and Mr. Metcalfe, Bryan's associate editor of the Commonwealth, was made
governor of the Panama canal zone.
Several appointments have been made in Secretary Lane's department and also in the postoffice and department of justice. Altogether Mr. Bryan is showing that when he has an opportunity he takes care of those who have been loyal to him for so many years.

Burke in Charge.

Jim Mann can't stay on the job all the time. He has to take a little vacation now and then, particularly when the house is adjourning from day to day without doing much business. Congressman Burke has been acting minority leader during Mann's absence, and he shows apt ability in standing up and "reserving the right
to object," although he has not yet
been able to jerk his finger about with
so much meaning as the Chicago member.

"There is more meaning in that jerky motion of Jim Mann's finger,"
remarked one congressman, "than in several hours' talk by some of the members of the house."

"His Master's Voice."

If one could sit and listen to "Al-falga Bill" Murray of Oklahoma and not see him one would be almost convinced that he was listening to William Jennings Bryan. There is a difference in the tone of the voice.
Murray's being just slightly deeper
and not quite so bell-like, but in all other particulars the Oklahoma man
talks like the man he has supported and admired for so many years. His language and pauses are like Bryan's.

Lewis Remembers.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois never forgets those who were
his friends in the days when he needed them. "If I can ever do anything
for you, young man," said Lewis one
day when he met a recent graduate,
"don't fail to call upon me. Anything
I will do as an appreciation of his friendliness to me in days when I needed friends. I shall never forget him or you." There are politicians who do not remember.

They Are Alike.

Congressman Gillette was telling the house how the big sundry civil appropriation bill was being held up on account of the few crumbs of patronage
which senators wanted to save. "I do not say this because the senate is now Democratic," he added, "for I have never heard of any difference between Republican and Democratic senators
in the matter of patronage. They all want all they can get and reach for more."

For Enlisted Men.

Secretary Daniels is going to do all
he can for the enlisted men of the navy. He has had quite a number of sessions with officers of the navy, in which he has urged them to give the
enlisted men as much of an opportunity as can be given to acquire an education and to improve their condition.

JAMES TAKES FIRM STAND

Kentucky Senator Demands Free
Meat and Cattle.

Washington, June 18.—Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, who made the sugar tariff speech in the senate defending the stand of President Wilson, has taken a vigorous position in the finance committee against the imposition of a countervailing duty on meat and cattle and announced he would carry the fight to the Democratic senatorial caucus if he failed
to swing the committee into line.

Senator James emphatically declared that the public is entitled to unrestricted free cattle and meat.

He did not oppose the action of the Democrats in free listing wheat and
flour with the countervailing duty
added, but he opposed such a duty on cattle and meat so strenuously that final action on the matter was deferred.

TERRIFIC STORMS
SWEEP NORTHWESTWind and Lightning Play Havoc
Over Large Area.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 18.—Rain
and wind swept the entire Northwest.
In a dozen or more places buildings
were demolished by small cyclones,
in others lightning played havoc with telephone and telegraph service. One death is reported, due directly to the storm, and several persons were slightly injured.

The first reports of storm damage
began coming from Southern Saskatchewan. About Benbow a tornado
overturned a half dozen buildings,
tore down wires and broke windows.
Next it hit Ernfordia, where a restaurant and a number of residences were demolished and a number of persons injured slightly.

Near Eyebrow there was a severe storm, accompanied by lightning, and between that town and Moose Jaw
the disturbance became violent, wrecking many barns and doing other damage.

Morse reported the most violent storm in memory. Buildings were blown down and others were struck by lightning. Cattle were killed and other damage done. About Pasqua
a number of buildings also were demolished.

Next the storm area seemed to advance across North Dakota. It hit
the Thompson district in Grand Forks county and wrecked an elevator and a blacksmith shop, tore down trees and poles.

At the same time almost rain was falling over a great area of Montana
and in parts of South Dakota and Minnesota.

Washington, June 18.—President Wilson made the following nominations: Ambassador to Italy, Thomas Nelson Page
of Virginia; minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A. Stovall of Georgia; collector of customs
for Montana, Andrew J. King.

French Army Bill Will Pass.

Paris, June 18.—Passage of the three-year service bill was forecasted
when the chamber of deputies decided to vote the measure "urgent."
Such action closes debate and prevents filibustering. Close observers predict that the army bill will become a law by a large majority.

When Women Dress for Church

There is an amazing lack of appropriateness in the way women dress for church. Many a woman who has a perfect sense of fitness as to what she should wear at the social functions she attends, where she would feel mortified if she wore a hat where hats were not the rule or failed to wear one where they were, will go to church with perfect equanimity in a dress designed for anything from an afternoon tea to a foot-ball game, a motor trip or tennis-match.

And it is just as possible to err with a costume too severe as with one too ornate. One young girl, when she goes to church, wears a dark felt hat turned up on three sides with a great feather standing right up in front. The color is unobtrusive, the shape unobjectionable, but the hat has a military, aggressive quality that makes one immediately liken the young woman to a drum-major, and puts her absolutely out of harmony with her surroundings. Another woman shows this same lack of harmony in a set of white furs and a hat plainly meant to be worn in a theatre-box at the matinee. A woman appeared in a church not long ago in a red dress that attracted the attention of the entire congregation away from the minister. One woman who was most severe in criticism of the red-dressed lady wore a bright purple dress which, in its way, was equally inappropriate.

Dressing for church requires thought just as much as dressing for a matinee or an afternoon tea. If a woman goes to a wedding, or a dance, she invariably chooses a costume that will be in keeping with the occasion; something dainty and becoming. If she goes for a tramp in the woods she chooses a costume that will give her the greatest freedom of motion and will withstand bad weather, or briars, or muddy roads. She ears something, in other words, suited to the occasion. Exactly the same rule should guide her when she goes to church: her costume should be trim to show proper respect in a place of worship, but absolutely quiet and inconspicuous. The moment that a woman's dress distracts either her own attention or that of her neighbor from a reverential participation in the service, that moment she is inappropriately dressed for church. The more quietly a woman dresses in a house of worship the more harmonious her appearance and the more absolutely she is in keeping with the time and the place.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Exploration Work and Probably a Shaft Planned Immediately North of Town of Crosby

CROSBY "EX" COMPANY ACTIVE

Interest Centering in Brainerd With the Platting of the New Cuyuna Range Addition

Of greatest interest on the Cuyuna iron range is the contemplated activity of the Crosby Exploration company, which, it is reliably reported, has secured two new options on properties near Crosby. The company has completed exploration work in section 23, township 47, range 29, where five drills were employed, and these will be removed to the new points covered by the options named.

The W. H. Yawkey property in the northeast quarter of section 1, township 46, range 29, has revealed a large body of ore. The northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the same section immediately north of Crosby and adjoining the Yawkey tract will soon be explored.

Near by lies the Jamison & Peacock land in the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the same section 1, township 46, range 29. Large ore bodies have also been found on the Williams & Chisholm property adjacent to and west of the Jamison & Peacock ore lands. Rumors are to the effect that the Jamison & Peacock tract has been taken over by an old range mining company and that work is to be started soon. Underground mining would have to be carried on as the surface has a depth of about 85 feet. Mr. Peacock, when interviewed at Brainerd, refused to affirm or deny the report.

The Williams & Chisholm property is distinguished by the fact that it has a drill 900 feet in ore after penetrating an overburden of approximately 90 feet. At last accounts the drill was still bottomed in ore.

The Whitmarsh Mining company has leases on lands in sections 9, 10, 16, 17 and 23, township 47, range 29.

The Pennington pit mine, to the west of Crosby and Ironton, is the scene of great activity. The two steam shovels struck ore in a spot in the pit this week. It is expected to ship early in July. The overburden has been handled at a cost of about 8 cents a yard and the Tod-Stambaugh people have made a record in cheapness of operation which exceeds anything accomplished on any range in Minnesota. The fact that this district had been drained by four underground mines did much towards making the pit almost as dry as a bone. Water is bubbling forth at some points, but not in large quantities. Close by the shovel may be working in a place 10 feet below the water level and be in perfectly dry ground, which shows how peculiarly water course run. The Inland Steel company is shipping from its stockpile at the Thompson mine and it is expected to clear up the pile within three weeks. Then the entire attention of the mine will be devoted to its stripping proposition.

The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna and the Armour No. 1 and Armour No. 2 near Crosby and Ironton, all being properties of the Rogers, Brown Ore company, are shipping from their stockpiles.

The Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton is drifting at the 200 foot level, says Capt. Wm. Pascoe, who has charge of operations and who has made a record for quick sinking which has not been approached by any mine in the district. The drift is now in over 50 feet and but 20 feet more must be traversed to enter the ore deposit. The initial shipment is expected to be made July 1 and will probably be made the occasion of a big excursion of stockholders similar to the time when the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine commenced shipping. Forty men are employed at the Cuyuna-Duluth mine. The company has made a proposition to the village of Ironton to furnish water.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the northwest of the Pennington mine has 40 men employed, which crew may shortly be increased to 100 in a couple of months. Records of the company, as stated by officials, state that shipments are running from 5 to 7 cars a day. Shipments will be largely increased when ore is hoisted from both levels.

At the Adams mine at Oreland and the Virginia Ore Mining Co. mine at Barrows no changes have been reported over last week. Contractor Buzzo, of Ely, is engaged in sinking at the Adams mine. At the Barrows mine pumping facilities are being increased.

Exploration work is extending into Aitkin county. T. R. Foley has had a drill at work in the town of Aitkin. Gust Raymond, representing various interests, expects to soon start a drill in Aitkin county. William Rock is drilling in section 27, township 47, range 29.

The Duluth-Brainerd Mining company has three drills reported to be in ore and operating in section 32, township 47, range 29. The Helmer Exploration company is doing the drilling. The High Grade Manganese company has a drill in section 33, township 47, range 29.

Judge J. T. Hale has a drill south of Deerwood in section 32, township 46, range 28. Gaylord & Guith are drilling for the Messaba-Cuyuna Iron Land Co. in section 23, township 47, range 29. The State Exploration company has two drills in section 33, township 47, range 29.

The Soo Line is removing a steam shovel across country for grading on the cutoff, to the Iron Mountain mine. Camps are being pitched near the mine.

The Gopher Iron company has taken over the Wilson Bradley lease in section 19, township 45, range 29 and is acquiring other holdings. Drilling is to commence soon.

Interest centers in Brainerd where the Brainerd Townsite company of Duluth has platted the Cuyuna Range addition of 116 acres to the east of the Northern Pacific railway shops. To the south and east are developed ore bodies and shafts are expected to be sunk at one or more points. To the east lies the large ore body in section 13, township 45, range 30 taken over by the Longyear company of Minneapolis. It is reported that development work of some kind will soon be in progress.

There has been placed on record an option agreement from H. Kathryn Frederick and husband, of Brainerd, Frank S. Walker, Brainerd and Chas. A. Walker, Kootenai county, Idaho to the E. J. Longyear company of Minneapolis and covering mineral lands in the south half of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 29. A year's time is to be given for exploration and then if the company desires a lease it will be for a 50 year term, with royalty at 25c a ton and a minimum output of 10,000 tons annually.

A release of option has been filed from the Mutual Iron company to Frank A. Barber, Allen T. McPherson, Franklin W. Merritt and William A. Kerr and covering land in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29.

George I. Raymond has given a partial release to the Hale Development company, the consideration being $2,000 and the property described as the west half of the northeast quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30.

The Edsons of Deerwood and Duluth have placed a drill on the Schroeder place across the narrows of Rabbit lake and northwest of the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna. The Schroeder place adjoins the Lindstrom land.

OPERATORS AND SENATORS CLASH

Fist Fight at Mine Strike Inquiry Narrowly Averted.

MARTINE GETS VERY ANGRY

At the Close of a Stormy Session at Charleston, W. Va., New Jersey Senator Resents Invitation on Part of Coal Baron to Take a Drink and Only the Intervention of Friends Prevents a Personal Combat.

Charleston, W. Va., June 18.—At a stormy session of the senate mine strike committee at which a fist fight between Senator Martine of New Jersey and Quinn Morton, manager of the Paint Creek Operators' association, was narrowly averted, the coal operators of Paint and Cabin Creek presented their side of the controversy. Mr. Morton and others discussed at length the fight at the miners' camp and Holly Grove on the night of Feb. 7, when witnesses for the miners testified a machine gun raked the town from an armored train.

Mr. Morton flatly denied the statement of Lee Calvin, a former mine guard, called by the miners, that he had urged that the train be backed up and that the men on board "give them another round."

This statement and Calvin's declaration that Morton had remarked, "Didn't we give them hell?" after the train passed the town Mr. Morton vigorously denied.

Returns Just Before Recess.

After once questioning Mr. Morton as to his participation in the shooting up of Holly Grove, Senator Martine left the hearing room and returned just as the committee was prepared to recess for luncheon.

He strode into the room and, without taking his seat, resumed the questioning of Mr. Morton.

During the morning Mr. Morton had denounced the attitude of Senator Martine as "outrageous," and the trouble broke out again with the question the senator asked on his return.

He wanted to know whether Mr. Morton had expressed satisfaction at the effect of the firing on Holly Grove, but before he had developed his line of questioning Senator Swanson, scenting trouble, adjourned the committee.

Mr. Morton leaned back in the witness seat as Senator Martine, his hat and heavy walking stick in his hand, stood behind the press table, still asking questions.

"Well," remarked Mr. Morton, "we'll all go down and take a few drinks and then we'll feel better."

Crowd Begins to Leave.

The auditors had already begun to crowd toward the door of the room, when they were arrested by a shout of Senator Martine.

"What was that you said, sir?" he demanded, leaning toward Mr. Morton.

"I said we'll go down and have a few drinks and we'll feel better," repeated the mine operator.

Pushing his way through the little throng about the stenographer's table Senator Martine shouted:

"You are a backguard of the worst character to address such a remark to me."

Out of the confusion that followed came the voice of Morton.

"Did you not take three drinks with me in thirty minutes?"

With a bound Senator Martine covered the short distance that separated the two men.

"You have forfeited all respect to consideration as a decent white man," he shouted.

Lawyer Chides Senator.

"You are an excited old man," interposed Attorney Vinson as both men pressed toward each other. Vinson protested against his client being "insulted."

Sensor Swanson hurried around the committee table and seized Senator Williams he hurried him from the room. Mr. Morton and Mr. Vinson protesting in vigorous language against the proceedings.

This closed the incident, but the excited throng from the committee room fled out to the hotel lobby and a general disturbance accompanied the discussion of the affair.

The operators placed on the stand K. S. Leitch, the engineer, and William Tardy, the fireman, who were in charge of the armored train the night of the Holly Grove fight.

Both testified that they were certain that the first shots fired in the trouble were from the hills along the track at Holly Grove and that no shooting was done from the train until after it had been fired upon.

CAMPAIGN TO EDUCATE PUBLIC

Senate Lobby Inquiry Secures Number of Letters.

ONE COMES FROM MINNESOTA

Original Telegrams and Letters and Copies of Others Secured From Washington Offices of Beet Sugar Interests Disclose Attempt to Create Public Sentiment Against Free Sugar Through Papers and Press Associations.

Washington, June 18.—The trail of the "lobby" the senate has been following more than two weeks led into the private files of the men in charge of the Washington offices of the United States beet sugar industry, the leading instrument of the campaign against free sugar.

By originals of letters and telegrams and what purported to be copies of others the inquiry developed testimony of what appeared to be an attempt at a far-reaching campaign to create public sentiment against free sugar through the columns of individual newspapers and the facilities of press associations.

The committee got possession of copies of letters and telegrams of Clarence C. Hamlin, a Colorado Springs newspaper owner and beet sugar man, in charge of the Washington office of the American Beet Sugar association, two years ago.

The papers included what purported to be carbon copies of letters, unsigned, but furnished as genuine by Harry A. Austin, a clerk in the office of Truman G. Palmer, representative of the United States beet sugar industry.

While the committee was after the private papers Palmer, after conference with Senator Clark of Wyoming, Hamlin's uncle, was wiring Hamlin urging him to get a lawyer to represent his interests.

The committee had knowledge of that and hurried the letters into the record without regard to sequence.

Minnesota Letter Read.

A letter to Hamlin from H. A. Douglass of the Minnesota Sugar company of Chaska, Minn., dated at Detroit, April 6, 1912, said:

"We think it would be the wise plan to have C. T. Fenton, manager of the Minnesota Sugar company, who is now in Washington, meet the Iowa senators and advise them of the possibility of the Minnesota Sugar company extending its interests in Northern Iowa in case of a satisfactory sugar tariff settlement."

A copy of a letter purporting to have been written by Hamlin to J. Ross Clark of Los Angeles and dated Washington, Jan. 18, 1912, said in part:

"Mr. Case had another conference with Senator Works yesterday and is satisfied that he will do all he can for us."

One letter from the Hamlin file, written from Washington on Dec. 2, 1911, to Charles B. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar company, enumerated nearly a dozen large papers in the Middle West in which he said he had succeeded in getting "our story" printed.

A letter to C. B. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar company, dated Feb. 1, 1912, and apparently from Hamlin, said:

"Mr. Pickett, from Iowa, classed as an insurgent, will make one of the principal speeches in opposition to any sugar measure that may be brought in. Mr. Palmer is now at work on the necessary data. Mr. Mondell of Wyoming also wishes to enter into the fight on the floor and to be equipped with the necessary information. It is for him that I want Mr. Hathaway to prepare a brief."

PROBE OIL TRUST'S COURSE

Attorney General Investigating Obedience to Decree.

Washington, June 18.—Attorney General McReynolds is seeking further information before deciding whether the decree dissolving the Standard Oil trust has been violated and whether in consequence the federal government should begin contempt of court or grand jury proceedings against those responsible.

Under instructions of the attorney general, Charles B. Morrison, government's counsel in the case, is in Chicago attempting to develop more facts and giving study to the questions of law involved. This may take several weeks.

INCOME TAX FOR TRUSTS

Senator Hitchcock Proposes Graduated System.

Washington, June 18.—A graduated income tax upon corporations having a capital stock of more than $100,000,000 and controlling more than one-fourth of the production of their respective lines was proposed to the finance committee by Senator Hitchcock from the floor of the senate.

"I propose to take these amendments to the Democratic caucus if the finance committee rejects them and carry them to the floor of the senate itself if necessary," declared the Nebraska senator as he faced Chairman Simmons of the finance committee.

Senator Hitchcock explained that his new proposal to tax the "trusts" provided that on corporations controlling one-third of the production the tax would be 15 per cent of their annual net profits and on those controlling 50 per cent a tax of 25 per cent.

MEATS COME UNDER PURE FOOD LAWS

Will Be Seized if Misbranded or Adulterated.

Washington, June 18.—Probably the most radical and far-reaching extension of the food and drugs act since its enactment was made when Secretary Houston, McAdoo and Redfield, charged with enforcing this statute, ruled that meat and meat products in interstate or foreign commerce, which hitherto have been exempted from the provisions of the pure food law, may be seized if misbranded or adulterated.

Beginning at once manufacturers of meat foods will be required to comply strictly with the food and drugs act as well as with the meat inspection law.

The action was taken on the strength of an opinion by Attorney General McReynolds. The three secretaries revoked a regulation adopted in October, 1906, only four months after the passage of the pure food law which had prevented the department of agriculture according to a statement by Secretary Houston. "from prosecuting manufacturers of meat foods under the pure food law, or ordering seizures or prosecution for misbranding or adulteration of domestic meats."

Secretary Houston said he could not understand why meat and meat products were not food in the sense of the food and drugs act, or why his department could not seize bad, adulterated or misbranded meat, once it had entered interstate commerce.

Under the new decision the government can control meat foods from the hoof to the retailer, subject only to the limitations of the power of the federal government in interstate commerce.

MOVED TO ST. PAUL IN 1849

Mrs. Anna Acker Rice Dies at Advanced Age.

St. Paul, June 18.—Mrs. Anna Acker Rice, widow of Hon. Edmund Rice, at one time mayor of St. Paul and congressman from Minnesota, who has been seriously ill at her home for two weeks, is dead. Her decline was due to age and, while her condition had been serious only for two weeks, her health had gradually failed for two years.

Mrs. Rice was eighty-four years old and had been a resident of St. Paul since 1849, when she came to this state with her father, the late William Acker, and her husband, who had just made her his bride.

MONEY PROBLEM BEATS THE TARIFF

No Currency Panic Coming If Wilson Can Prevent It.

PRESIDENT WANTS ACTION.

Secretary Bryan Steals March on Garrison and Gets Good Place For His Co-editor, Metcalfe; Also Corralles Several Other Snug Berths For Faithful Friends.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 18.—[Special.]—Currency legislation presents more difficulties than the tariff. As to the tariff the Democrats came together upon a general scheme of downward revision. It is true that the revision went much further than many Democrats anticipated, but they were all agreed upon the general plan.

As to the currency the situation is different. In the first place, mighty few members of the party know anything about the currency question. That also applies to the Republican and Progressive parties. There are many who understand, or think they understand all about the currency, but who differ radically as to what should be done. And there they are, all in a snarl.

Wilson in Command.

About the only thing that seems definitely settled is that President Wilson is in command and has given orders for "full steam ahead." But the captains of the several ships do not seem to have an adequate degree of knowledge as to which point of the money compass is ahead. The president intends to have currency legislation to meet conditions which may arise on account of the passage of the tariff bill.

He does not want any situation to arise which will make a money stringency possible on top of what may be a disarrangement of business by reason of tariff changes. The last tariff bill passed by the Democrats had the misfortune to be mixed up with a currency panic of great dimensions. The president is determined to make any such thing impossible in the future.

Takes Care of His Friends.

Secretary Bryan takes care of his friends. He goes into other departments and gets good places for them. Secretary Garrison was away one day, and Mr. Metcalfe, Bryan's associate editor of the Commonwealth, was made governor of the Panama canal zone. Several appointments have been made in Secretary Lane's department and also in the postoffice and department of justice. Altogether Mr. Bryan is showing that when he has an opportunity he takes care of those who have been loyal to him for so many years.

Burke in Charge.

Jim Mann can't stay on the job all the time. He has to take a little vacation now and then, particularly when the house is adjourning from day to day without doing much business. Congressman Burke has been acting minority leader during Mann's absence, and he shows apt ability in standing up and "reserving the right to object," although he has not yet been able to jerk his finger about with so much meaning as the Chicago member.

"There is more meaning in that jerky motion of Jim Mann's finger," remarked one congressman, "than in several hours' talk by some of the members of the house."

"His Master's Voice."

If one could sit and listen to "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma and not see him one would be almost convinced that he was listening to William Jennings Bryan. There is a difference in the tone of the voice. Murray's being just slightly deeper and not quite so bell-like, but in all other particulars the Oklahoma man talks like the man he has supported and admired for so many years. His language and pauses are like Bryan's.

Lewis Remembers.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois never forgets those who were his friends in the days when he needed them. "If I can ever do anything for you, young man," said Lewis one day when he met a recent graduate, "don't fail to call upon me. Anything that I can do for a son of your father I will do as an appreciation of his friendliness to me in days when I needed friends. I shall never forget him or you." There are politicians who do not remember.

They Are Alike.

Congressman Gillette was telling the house how the big sundry civil appropriation bill was being held up on account of the few crumbs of patronage which senators wanted to save. "I do not say this because the senate is now Democratic," he added, "for I have never heard of any difference between Republican and Democratic senators in the matter of patronage. They all want all they can get and reach for more."

For Enlisted Men.

Secretary Daniels is going to do all he can for the enlisted men of the navy. He has had quite a number of sessions with officers of the navy, in which he has urged them to give the enlisted men as much of an opportunity as can be given to acquire an education and to improve their condition.

OLLIE JAMES.

Favors Placing Meat and Cattle on the Free List.

By American Press Association.

JAMES TAKES FIRM STAND

Kentucky Senator Demands Free Meat and Cattle.

Washington, June 18.—Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, who made the sugar tariff speech in the senate defending the stand of President Wilson, has taken a vigorous position in the finance committee against the imposition of a countervailing duty on meat and cattle and announced he would carry the fight to the Democratic senatorial caucus if he failed to swing the committee into line.

Senator James emphatically declared that the public is entitled to unrestricted free cattle and meat.

He did not oppose the action of the Democrats in free listing wheat and flour with the countervailing duty added, but he opposed such a duty on cattle and meat so strenuously that final action on the matter was deferred.

TERRIFIC STORMS SWEEP NORTHWEST

Wind and Lightning Play Havoc Over Large Area.

Grand Forks, N. D., June 18.—Rain and wind swept the entire Northwest. In a dozen or more places buildings were demolished by small cyclones, in others lightning played havoc with telephone and telegraph service. One death is reported, due directly to the storm, and several persons were slightly injured.

The first reports of storm damage began coming from Southern Saskatchewan. About Bengough a tornado overturned a half dozen buildings, tore down wires and broke windows. Next it hit Enfield, where a restaurant and a number of residences were demolished and a number of persons injured slightly.

Near Eyebrow there was a severe storm, accompanied by lightning, and between that town and Moose Jaw the disturbance became violent, wrecking many barns and doing other damage.

Morse reported the most violent storm in memory. Buildings were blown down and others were struck by lightning. Cattle were killed and other damage done. About Pasqua a number of buildings also were demolished.

Next the storm area seemed to advance across North Dakota. It hit the Thompson district in Grand Forks county and wrecked an elevator and a blacksmith shop, tore down trees and poles.

At the same time almost rain was falling over a great area of Montana and in parts of South Dakota and Minnesota.

Washington, June 18.—President Wilson made the following nominations: Ambassador to Italy, Thomas Nelson Page of Virginia; minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A. Stovall of Georgia; collector of customs for Montana, Andrew J. King.

French Army Bill Will Pass.

Paris, June 18.—Passage of the three-year service bill was forecasted when the chamber of deputies decided to vote the measure "urgent." Such action closes debate and prevents filibustering. Close observers predict that the army bill will become a law by a large majority.

Lawyers Say Rate Fights Have Only Begun.

MAY BEGIN NEW ACTIONS

In Each Case Recently Decided by the Federal Supreme Court Tribunal Where a Railroad Failed to Sustain Its Claim That State Rates Were Confiscatory the Line Can Again Institute Proceedings.

Washington, June 18.—The state rate decisions which marked the session of the supreme court are regarded by some lawyers as merely the beginning of a fight by the railroads against low rates.

In each case where a railroad failed to sustain its claim that the state rates were confiscatory the supreme court specifically preserved the right of the road to begin new proceedings.

This was true as to two roads in Minnesota, twelve in Missouri and two in Arkansas, where Justice Hughes said the data on which the claim of confiscation was based was too general.

Whether any road can collect data before the interstate commerce commission concludes its valuation of all the railroad property in the United States sufficiently accurate to satisfy the court that proper valuations have been arrived at is a new question.

Justice Hughes made it clear that the court will not accept generalizations or opinions as to valuations and expenses.

Must Reform Bookkeeping.

Even tests of days or weeks will not satisfy. Lawyers construct the court's opinion as saying that the railroads must invent a more detailed system of bookkeeping.

It has been estimated that the interstate commerce commission will not complete its valuation within five years.

In the meanwhile it is regarded as certain that some railroads will seek to convince the court that they have accurate figures to show a confiscation.

Within the week after the Minnesota rate decision was announced the Norfolk and Western railroad filed in the supreme court a suit in which it claimed the 2-cent passenger law of West Virginia was confiscatory.

This law was held constitutional in the suit of the Chesapeake and Ohio, but that road did not raise the point of confiscation.

The unusual situation of low rates being applicable to some roads in a state and not applicable to others was pronounced by Justice Hughes in the Missouri rate decision as being entirely constitutional.

$121,000 PAYDAY GREET'S BRAINERD

Stream of Golden Wealth Stirs the Wheels of Industry and Trade in the County Seat

I. & I. CONSTRUCTION WORK Sawmill in Northeast Brainerd Adds its Payroll and Helps Swell the Total Figures

This month the payrolls of the large industries of Brainerd reached the high figure of $121,200.

The Northern Pacific railway shops maintained a payroll of average size. The Minnesota & International railway payroll for the system amounted to approximately $40,000, of which about half is disbursed in Brainerd. Additional construction work is swelling the totals on this line.

The pulp mill, pending the installation of machinery, has closed down for a short period. Northeast Brainerd, however, has a new industry which in a way takes the pulp mill's place. It is the sawmill cutting the headboards fished from the Mississippi. The mill is run by George Adcock and the men are paid twice a week. The total wages for the month will come to about $1,400. Another industry near by is the Ebinger brick yard where eight men are employed.

At the tie plant of the Northern Pacific railway there has been a large increase in the wage list, due to additional men being placed at work.

At the Cuyuna Range addition of the Brainerd Townships company men and teams are at work grading the streets. The cement sidewalk contract, covering five blocks for the first installment, has been let to Ritari Brothers. These contractors are also erecting a cement-block house measuring 25 by 40 feet and a story in height, to be used as a store building. At present two teams and 18 men are at work. More will be added shortly.

Much road work is being done near Brainerd.

Figures on paydays covering the larger industries of the city are:

N. P. railway shops	$ 77,000
N. P. railway yards	1,700
N. P. railway freight office	1,100
N. P. railway tie plant	3,000
M. & I. railway	20,000
Parker & Topping foundry	10,000
Exploration work tributary to city	5,000
City employees	1,600
N. E. Brainerd sawmill	1,400
Brainerd milling company	400
Total	$121,200

WHAT THE NEW COP DID

Trails C. E. Peabody to his Implement Warehouse and Tells Him to Leave Town

C. E. Peabody tells a story on Patrolman Schulte, a new policeman on the force.

Mr. Peabody had just bought a pair of tan shoes at Murphy's and was quietly walking to his office when he was approached, he says, by Patrolman Schulte and told to leave town.

"The chief told me to tell you to leave town," said the new cop. Mr. Peabody, who up to date had done nothing more remarkable than wear his tan shoes and refuse to don the Bulgarian tie which Murphy wanted to sell to him, said very little and kept on walking to his office being reminded at intervals that the chief said he should leave town.

The cop followed Mr. Peabody, one of our best and most estimable citizens, a resident of Brainerd for 30 years or more, and when Mr. Peabody reached the shade of his machinery shed, he squared off and said to the policeman:

"Now I am on my own ground. You tell your chief I won't go to him or leave town. I have lived in this town for years and never had a man put up such a talk. The best thing for you to do, Mr. Schulte, is to go home and stay off the force for a couple of weeks and get acquainted with the people who live in this town before telling them to leave it."

The policeman made an apology, but the story leaked out and is furnishing much comment.

FOR RHEUMATISM KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

KIDNAPING CASE ON TRIAL TODAY

Peter L. Newman, George C. Paine and Ludwig Nelson, of Crosby, Accused of Kidnaping

TEODOR SJOGREN FROM CROSBY

Assistant Attorney General Edgerton to Assist Co. Atty. G. S. Swanson in Prosecution

The case of Peter L. Newman, George C. Paine and Ludwig Nelson, of Crosby, charged with kidnaping Teodor Sjogren from Crosby at the time of the underground miners' strike was taken up at nine o'clock this morning in the district court, Judge W. S. McClenahan presiding.

Assistant Attorney General A. J. Edgerton arrived from Crookston last evening to assist County Attorney G. S. Swanson in the prosecution of the case. Alderman & Clark represent the various defendants.

The state is believed to have eight or ten witnesses, the defense probably ten or twelve. At least half a day will be spent in getting a jury.

Kidnaping is so rare a crime and Minnesota has so little law on the subject that the case will be followed with interest. At the time Pat Crowe kidnaped the little child of the millionaire packer Cudahy many western states including Minnesota raised the penalty, the maximum being 40 years.

Sjogren is about 26 years old, is married and has his home at Amasa, Mich. The socialist party is taking a deep interest in the case. T. E. Latimer, of Minneapolis, state secretary of the socialist party, has been at Crosby several days and arrived in Brainerd Tuesday. He will be a witness. O. N. Thomason, of Minneapolis, organizer under Latimer, and a lawyer, and Guy Peters, night clerk at the City hotel at Brainerd, are also said to be witnesses.

Sjogren's story, as it was given publicity in Duluth and Minneapolis papers, was to the effect that he was forcibly compelled to leave Crosby in an automobile, was brought to Brainerd, then Deerwood, from which point he fled to Duluth. The Duluth Herald there published his entire version of the matter.

If separate trials are asked for by each defendant, then the entire case may last three weeks or more.

At nine o'clock this morning the district court session commenced. Judge W. S. McClenahan presiding. The court room was not crowded. There were present the panel of petit jurors, court attaches and witnesses.

All the defendants were not present and Judge McClenahan continued the case to 1:30 P. M. for the purpose of having them all in court. An affidavit of prejudice was filed against Sheriff Reid by Assistant Attorney General Edgerton and the duties of that office during this case devolve on Coroner C. A. Nelson.

JOE, THE TURK

ROGER LAKE BRIEFS

A farewell surprise was given on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. P. Olson, Jr.

Mrs. H. W. Elden and little daughter Harriet, left Friday for their home in Dickinson, N. D.

Mr. Frank Richter was taken to Aitkin Sunday and left Monday for Rochester, Minn., accompanied by his brother, Mr. Joe Richter, where he will be under the care of the Rochester doctors for some time.

Mr. F. Stucke, Sr., and Miss Lydia Stucke were Aitkin callers Friday.

Miss Margaret Moritz spent Sunday at the Wm. Moritz home.

Mrs. F. Stucke and daughter Lydia and Dorothy, visited at the F. Richter place Saturday afternoon.

The Roger Lake school will close Thursday, June 19th, for a vacation of three months.

The ball game played Sunday between Ross Lake and Cedar Brook, turned out to be a complete failure on the Ross Lake side, the score being 13 to 4 in favor of Cedar Brook. "Oh, you Ross Lake players!"

THE CLOUSTON ESTATE

Totals $2,672,000—Bequest of $20,000 to His Niece, Miss Edna Clouston

Under date of Toronto, June 9, a Montreal paper has the following regarding the estate of Sir Edward Seaborn Clouston, uncle of Miss Edna Clouston, formerly a resident of Brainerd.

The estate of the late Sir Edward Seaborn Clouston, formerly vice-president of the Bank of Montreal, has been filed for ancillary letters probate.

The estate amounts to $2,672,005, made up as follows: Stocks $2,100,748; cash, life insurance, mortgages, securities, etc., $287,129; miscellaneous, $203,276.

By the will the following division is made: Edna Clouston, niece, Summerland, B. C., receives a legacy of $20,000; Lady Annie Easton Clouston his widow in Montreal, gets the estate for life, or during widowhood, in Broxbriant, Senneville, Que., and one-half of the furniture, plate, pictures, jewels, horses and carriages, etc., at the Peel street residence, as well as the estate for life, or until she marries again, in the residue, or in the event of her marrying again, the estate for life in one-half of the residue, or in the whole, if Marjory Todd shall predecease Lady Clouston without issue.

Marjory Todd, daughter, is bequeathed the Broxbriant property, subject to Lady Clouston's life interest. She also gets one-half of the furniture, plate, etc., an annuity of $5,000, or if the income of the estate is less than $10,000, one-half of such income until the death of Lady Clouston. Marjory Todd's children succeed to their mother's portion in the event of her decease.

The heirs of Marjory Todd get the residue in default of exercise of power by herself or Lady Clouston.

The deceased had real estate to the value of $66,750; it included property in the village of Senneville appraised at $63,760, and one-half share in one-third interest in the property known as Demalagut Barbacoas situated in Cuba.

WANTS A WIFE

Deerwood Man Asks Edward Payson Weston to Find Him Helpmate While on Walking Tour

The Minneapolis Journal gives publicity to the communication of a Deerwood man who wants Edward Payson Weston to find a wife for him. The article reads:

Basing his claims on the fraternal feeling that should exist between all long distance walkers, a Deerwood, Minn., farmer who says he used to walk eleven miles daily to and from school in his youth, has written Edward Payson Weston, asking the pedestrian to find him a wife while on the way from New York to Minneapolis. The letter signed by H. O. Sebring, R. F. D., route 1, Deerwood, Minn., and addressed to Weston in care of the Minneapolis Athletic club, is as follows:

"I see by the papers you are walking to the Minneapolis Athletic club, which I think is a great undertaking, as in my school days I walked every day a distance of eleven miles to my school and back. At the present time I am a farmer living on beautiful Crooked lake, near Deerwood, Minn. I own 100 acres of good land, a portion lake front, where I have a small home, stables and other things that are necessary for farming purposes.

"I am 40 years of age, weigh 190 pounds and, when I have my Sunday clothes on, make a fairly good appearance. No doubt during your trip you will come in contact with many ladies, and should you find one that would like a home in one of the most beautiful spots on earth, I will be glad to have you turn this letter over to her and have her write me, and if I can find one to suit me, will be glad to make her my wife and divide all I possess."

A substitute in medicine is never for the benefit of the buyer. Never be persuaded to buy anything but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds, for children or for grown persons. It is prompt and effective. It comes in a yellow package, with bee-hive on carton. It contains no opiates. Take no substitute for Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. For sale by H. P. Dunn.—Adv.

ST. ALBANS

St. Albans is a charming summer resort situated on the west shore of Mille Lacs lake near Garrison. Charles Barnard has charge of St. Albans hotel, etc.

Among the guests for the week at St. Albans were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Patrick of Duluth, E. A. Everett, W. R. Everett, Mrs. Curtiss and Miss Everett of Waseca, Professor and Mrs. Brooks of the university of Minnesota.

E. A. Everett and Prof. Brooks made some remarkably fine catches of black bass while here.

E. S. Houghton and party of Brainerd, Mr. Adams and Mr. Brown of Deerwood, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgden and party of Aitkin were among the guests last Sunday.

Work on the St. Albans Town and Country club house is progressing rapidly and the building and grounds will soon be thronged with members and their friends.

The road from Brainerd to Mille Lacs lake is in splendid conditions although a little dusty.

When Women Dress for Church

There is an amazing lack of appropriateness in the way women dress for church. Many a woman who has a perfect sense of fitness as to what she should wear at the social functions she attends, where she would feel mortified if she wore a hat where hats were not the rule or failed to wear one where they were, will go to church with perfect equanimity in a dress designed for anything from an afternoon tea to a foot-ball game, a motor trip or tennis-match.

And it is just as possible to err with a costume too severe as with one too ornate. One young girl, when she goes to church, wears a dark felt hat turned up on three sides with a great feather standing right up in front. The color is unobtrusive, the shape unobjectionable, but the hat has a military, aggressive quality that makes one immediately liken the young woman to a drum-major, and puts her absolutely out of harmony with her surroundings. Another woman shows this same lack of harmony in a set of white furs and a hat plainly meant to be worn in a theatre-box at the matinee. A woman appeared in a church not long ago in a red dress that attracted the attention of the entire congregation away from the minister. One woman who was most severe in criticism of the red-dressed lady wore a bright purple dress which, in its way, was equally inappropriate.

Dressing for church requires thought just as much as dressing for a matinee or an afternoon tea. If a woman goes to a wedding, or a dance, she invariably chooses a costume that will be in keeping with the occasion; something dainty and becoming. If she goes for a tramp in the woods she chooses a costume that will give her the greatest freedom of motion and will withstand bad weather, or briars, or muddy roads. She ears something, in other words, suited to the occasion. Exactly the same rule should guide her when she goes to church; her costume should be trim to show proper respect in a place of worship, but absolutely quiet and inconspicuous. The moment that a woman's dress distracts either her own attention or that of her neighbor from a reverential participation in the service, that moment she is inappropriately dressed for church. The more quietly a woman dresses in a house of worship the more harmonious her appearance and the more absolutely she is in keeping with the time and the place.

Verner Salo Accuses Jacob Maki and Herman Borko of Attempting to Steal His Pants

When Verner Salo retired in a local hotel he carefully deposited his pants under the mattress, probably to press them out and probably also to keep in safety what valuables he carried.

At night he was awakened by some one tugging at the pants. He reached for his gun and covered the intruders he claimed entered his room and called to his partner who got help and the pair were arrested.

This morning Jacob Maki and Herman Borko were arraigned on a charge of burglary, County Attorney G. S. Swanson prosecuting the case.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Exploration Work and Probably a Shaft Planned Immediately North of Town of Crosby

Interest Centering in Brainerd With the Platting of the New Cuyuna Range Addition

Of greatest interest on the Cuyuna iron range is the contemplated activity of the Crosby Exploration company, which, it is reliably reported, has secured two new options on properties near Crosby. The company has completed exploration work in section 23, township 47, range 29, where five drills were employed, and these will be removed to the new points covered by the options named.

The W. H. Yawkey property in the northeast quarter of section 1, township 46, range 29, has revealed a large body of ore. The northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the same section immediately north of Crosby and adjoining the Yawkey tract will soon be explored.

Near by lies the Jamison & Peacock land in the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the same section 1, township 46, range 29. Large ore bodies have also been found on the Williams & Chisholm property adjacent to and west of the Jamison & Peacock ore lands. Rumors are to the effect that the Jamison & Peacock tract has been taken over by an old range mining company and that work is to be started soon. Underground mining would have to be carried on as the surface has a depth of about 85 feet. Mr. Peacock, when interviewed at Brainerd, refused to affirm or deny the report.

The Williams & Chisholm property is distinguished by the fact that it has a drill 900 feet in ore after penetrating an overburden of approximately 90 feet. At last accounts the drill was still bottomed in ore.

The Whitmarsh Mining company has leases on lands in sections 9, 10, 16, 17 and 23, township 47, range 29.

The Pennington pit mine, to the west of Crosby and Ironton, is the scene of great activity. The two steam shovels struck ore in a spot in the pit this week. It is expected to ship early in July. The overburden has been handled at a cost of about 8 cents a yard and the Tod-Stambaugh people have made a record in cheapness of operation which exceeds anything accomplished on any range in Minnesota. The fact that this district had been drained by four underground mines did much towards making the pit almost as dry as a bone. Water is bubbling forth at some points, but not in large quantities. Close by the shovel may be working in a place 10 feet below the water level and be in perfectly dry ground, which shows how peculiarly water course run. The Inland Steel company is shipping from its stockpile at the Thompson mine and it is expected to clear up the pile within three weeks. Then the entire attention of the mine will be devoted to its stripping proposition.

The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna and the Armour No. 1 and Armour No. 2 near Crosby and Ironton, all being properties of the Rogers, Brown Ore company, are shipping from their stockpiles.

The Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton is drifting at the 200 foot level, says Capt. Wm. Pascoe, who has charge of operations and who has made a record for quick sinking which has not been approached by any mine in the district. The drift is now in over 50 feet and but 20 feet more must be traversed to enter the ore deposit. The initial shipment is expected to be made July 1 and will probably be made the occasion of a big excursion of stockholders similar to the time when the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine commenced shipping. Forty men are employed at the Cuyuna-Duluth mine. The company has made a proposition to the village of Ironton to furnish water.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the northwest of the Pennington mine has 40 men employed, which crew may shortly be increased to 100 in a couple of months. Records of the company, as stated by officials, state that shipments are running from 5 to 7 cars a day. Shipments will be largely increased when ore is hoisted from both levels.

At the Adams mine at Oreland and the Virginia Ore Mining Co. mine at Barrows no changes have been reported over last week. Contractor Buzzo, of Ely, is engaged in sinking at the Adams mine. At the Borrows mine pumping facilities are being increased.

Exploration work is extending into Aitkin county. T. R. Foley has had a drill at work in the town of Aitkin. Gust Raymond, representing various interests, expects to soon start a drill in Aitkin county. William Rock is drilling in section 27, township 47, range 29.

The Duluth-Brainerd Mining company has three drills reported to be in ore and operating in section 32, township 47, range 29. The Helmer Exploration company is doing the drilling. The High Grade Manganese company has a drill in section 33, township 47, range 29.

Judge J. T. Hale has a drill south of Deerwood in section 32, township 46, range 28. Gaylord & Guith are drilling for the Messaba-Cuyuna Iron Land Co. in section 23, township 47, range 29. The State Exploration company has two drills in section 33, township 47, range 29.

The Soo Line is removing a steam shovel across country for grading on the cutoff, to the Iron Mountain mine. Camps are being pitched near the mine.

The Gopher Iron company has taken over the Wilson Bradley lease in section 19, township 45, range 29 and is acquiring other holdings. Drilling is to commence soon.

Interest centers in Brainerd where the Brainerd Townsite company of Duluth has platted the Cuyuna Range addition of 116 acres to the east of the Northern Pacific railway shops. To the south and east are developed ore bodies and shafts are expected to be sunk at one or more points. To the east lies the large ore body in section 13, township 45, range 30 taken over by the Longyear company of Minneapolis. It is reported that development work of some kind will soon be in progress.

There has been placed on record an option agreement from H. Kathryn Frederick and husband, of Brainerd, Frank S. Walker, Brainerd and Chas. A. Walker, Kootenai county, Idaho to the E. J. Longyear company of Minneapolis and covering mineral lands in the south half of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 29. A year's time is to be given for exploration and then if the company desires a lease it will be for a 50 year term, with royalty at 25c a ton and a minimum output of 10,000 tons annually.

A release of option has been filed from the Mutual Iron company to Frank A. Barber, Allen T. McPherson, Franklin W. Merritt and William A. Kerr and covering land in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29.

George I. Raymond has given a partial release to the Hale Development company, the consideration being $2,000 and the property described as the west half of the northeast quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30.

The Edsons of Deerwood and Duluth have placed a drill on the Schroeder place across the narrows of Rabbit lake and northwest of the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna. The Schroeder place adjoins the Lindstrom land.
